Title: Where are we going?

Author: Kerwin

Where have all the people gone? What was once a thriving community has gone by the wayside. Lone travelers remain and only know that they are not alone by names and dates left in books. Why do we need so much more than we had? We had plenty of room, we had so much to do that most people quit having never done it all. They may have thought they did.. but those few of us that remain know better.
We've been given so much so fast that we have lost sight of where we came from.
